How to make an e-catalogue

For the hands-on laboratory on this topic we will use SCRIBUS an open source desktop publishing software. We will realize some pages of a pdf catalog based on an ebook published by Simonelli Editore

Scribus is available for many operatings systems and comes in basically two forms, stable and development. In development version lots of things may be regularly changing.

Currently the stable branch is the 1.4.x series that is a thoroughly tested software.

Teaching materials

There are also available for the exercitation some texts and photos, a draft in pdf and, thanks to the kindness of the publisher ,the ebook itself.

Cover of the ebook realized in both layout landscape and portrait
